SIHA Floor Hockey League

The SIHA is trying something new this year and ditching the skates for one night a week and playing a little floor hockey. We're trying out a "pilot" program where anyone interested in invited to play for two hours for only $5 per player. The thing with this league, there's no refs, no stats, no penalites. Interested players are asked to show up at the rink 15 minutes prior to the start of the game. Games will be played Mondays in August - the 9th, 16th & 23rd from 7:00 PM - 9:00 PM. Format is as follows: pick-up style with ball, minimum of 10 players & two goalies show up to play. No commitment necessary - pay as you play. If this "pilot" program is successful and there is genuine interest in playing, then we will roll it into a full-fledged program in 2011.

Thanks to you all...

We wanted to take this opportunity to thank all of our returning and new sponsors, players and fans. It's often difficult to find the time to tell you how appreciative we are for everyone who contributes to the success of the organization. Without the players and sponsors we would not be here to deliver such a fine product, or should we say products? There are so many ways to enjoy our services, like the extra things such as the All-star event, the Endurance Challenge, Tournaments, and now even floor hockey - all suggestions coming from you, the players. We seriously consider all of the suggestions and new ideas for ways to make the league a great place to play and work. Thanks again!

One Final Word From Cyrx...

So the Cyrx one is a bit confused these days..3 Divisions?? Are you serious? The Cyrx one understands the difference between A & B but why the C !!! Do they play on feet with a ball? Good God whats next a Soccer net for these wanna be INLINE PLAYERS!!

In closing here Crisalli goes for Three A DIV titles in a row and if the Cyrx one had to pick from the leftovers I'd have to say McLovin ...
